Enhancements

- Added an easy way to view the release notes for the current version of SuccessWare from within the SuccessWare application.

Just choose Release Notes from the File menu.

- Allows the user to specify how many columns to display in the Resources by Day view.

Use the slider, which appears in this view only, at the bottom right of the scheduler window to increase or decrease the number of columns shown. The minimum is 2 and the maximum is 20. The value is saved with favorite layouts.

- Automatically sorts resources displayed in the Resources by Day and Resources by Week views by staff, locations, and then equipment. Within each category, the resources are sorted by name.

- Added a preference for when an appointment is dragged to a new location on the scheduler to always allow, never allow, or confirm the move with the user.

Setting this preference to Never or Ask prevents users from accidentally moving an appointment. Choose Preferences from the File menu on Windows or the application menu on Macintosh, double-click Scheduler in the list to the left, select General beneath Scheduler, and then set your preference in the pop up menu labeled Allow the User to Move Appointments by Dragging. The default is to always allow dragging.

- Hold down the shift key while opening a window to open it with its default width and height.
- Added an Unselect All button to reconcile windows.

Fixed Issues

- Resolved an issue which caused some windows to appear with a smaller-than-appropriate width and/or height.
- Resolved an issue which caused holidays to not appear in the list view or in the all-day area of the Resources by Day view.
- Resolved an issue which caused the times for sessions to not print properly on labels.
- Resolved an issue when creating a client from a prospect which could cause the prospect's appointments to not move to the new client record.
